INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Trustees
Shorter University
Rome, Georgia

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Shorter University (University), which comprise the statements of financial position as of May 31, 2014 and 2013, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Board of Trustees
Shorter University

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Shorter University as of May 31, 2014 and 2013, and the changes in its net assets and cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Correction of Errors

As discussed in Note 20, the University corrected beginning net asset balances and classifications. The correction of these items has been recorded as a prior period adjustment. Our opinion is not modified with respect to this matter.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2014 and 2013

1. NATURE OF ORGANIZATION:

Shorter University (University), was founded in 1873, and is a co-educational senior university owned and operated under the direction of the Executive Committee of the Georgia Baptist Convention (Convention or GBC). The Convention elects a Board of Trustees, which is empowered to operate the University for the Convention. Shorter University is committed to excellence in education. The Princeton Review annually includes Shorter on its lists of best value and best Southeastern colleges. Shorter University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) and is a member of the Council of Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU).

Through its campus in Rome, Georgia, as well as remote campuses in Atlanta, the University offers traditional bachelor's degrees as well as undergraduate and master's degrees in the working adult and online programs.

The University is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (Code) and comparable state law and is not considered a private foundation under Section 509(a)(1) of the Code. Contributions to the University are deductible from income taxes within the limitations prescribed by the Code. The main sources of revenue are tuition and fee income as well as contributions from the public.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

The significant accounting policies followed by the University are described below to enhance the usefulness of the financial statements to the reader. The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

CASH AND CASH EQUIVALENTS

Cash equivalents are defined as short-term, highly liquid debt securities that are both readily convertible to cash and have an original maturity of three months or less. The University maintains cash and cash equivalents in financial institutions which may, at times, exceed federally insured limits. The University has not experienced any losses on such accounts.

As of May 31, 2014 and 2013, the University had $0 and $1,447,151 held in escrow, respectively, at Fifth Third Bank, mortgage lender, restricted for the construction of a new residence hall on the University's Rome campus. See Note 12 for details of the loan.

May 31, 2014 and 2013

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued:

STUDENT ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE

Student accounts receivables are reported net of any estimated losses due to uncollectible accounts. Tuition and fees are due in full at the beginning of each semester. Unpaid amounts from prior semesters are considered past due and students are not allowed to register for classes until those amounts are paid, or a payment plan is agreed to by the student. The University does not assess finance charges against student receivables that are past due.

The University provides an allowance for doubtful accounts equal to the estimated uncollectible receivables based upon historical trends and specific account analysis. Student receivables are written off on a case-by-case basis. Annually, all outstanding accounts are examined for age, payment activity, and enrollment status to determine which accounts should be written off. The allowance for doubtful accounts is maintained at a level which, in management's judgment, is adequate to absorb potential losses inherent from uncollectible receivables.

CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVABLE

When a donor has unconditionally promised to contribute funds to the University in future periods, the University recognizes a pledge receivable. Pledges expected to be collected within one year are recorded as support and a receivable at net realizable value. Pledges expected to be collected in future years are recorded as support and a receivable at the present value of the expected future cash flows. Discounts on those amounts are computed using risk-free interest rates applicable to the years in which the promises are received. For pledges received during the years ended May 31, 2014 and 2013, the discount rates used were 3.46% and 3.31%, respectively. Amortization of discounts is included in contribution revenue. Conditional promises to give are not included as support until the conditions are substantially met.

STUDENT/OTHER LOANS RECEIVABLE

Student loans receivable consist of amounts due from the Federal Perkins Loan Program administered by the University. Student loans are recorded net of estimated uncollectible amounts. For student loans, the University only recognizes the income after the interest is received. Any associated fees and costs are expensed as they occur. Loans receivable are considered past due if full principal payments are not received in accordance with the contractual terms.

Other loans receivable consist of amounts due from faculty and/or staff as a part of participating in a continuing education program funded from an estate gift. Participants apply to the University and are awarded/approved for a loan to be forgiven over a five year period as long as the participant continues employment at the University. The amortized forgiveness is recorded as bad debt expense and is reported as institutional support on the statements of activities.

INVESTMENTS

The University's investments consist of cash and money market funds and various marketable securities held at financial institutions. Investments in equity securities with readily determinable fair values and all debt securities are recorded at fair value with gains and losses reported in the statements of activities. Other investments are reported at cost. Donated investments are recorded at market value at the date of donation and thereafter carried in conformity with the stated policy.

Investment earnings, including interest and dividend income and unrealized gains and losses, are recorded in unrestricted net assets unless their use is temporarily or permanently restricted by explicit donor stipulation.

FUNDS HELD IN TRUST BY OTHERS

Beneficial interest in charitable remainder trusts

The University is the beneficiary under several split-interest agreements, primarily charitable remainder annuity trusts and charitable remainder unitrusts. Under these agreements, the University will receive the remaining assets of the trusts upon their expirations, normally coinciding with the death of the donor or other life income beneficiaries. Until that time, the donor or other life income beneficiaries receive income from the trust. Beneficial interests in charitable remainder trusts are recorded at their fair values upon the establishment of the trusts, or when the University is notified that they are a beneficiary of a trust. The University recognizes contribution revenue in an amount equal to the fair value in the initial reporting year. Fair value is determined using discount rates and actuarial assumptions which consider the donor's life expectancy and measure present value of the future distributions expected to be received over the term of the agreement. Subsequent measurement uses the same present value calculation at each measurement date recording the change in value of the split interest agreements on the statements of activities. Discount rate at May 31, 2013, was 4.8%. The trust was settled during the year ended May 31, 2014.

Perpetual trusts held by others

The University is also the beneficiary of various perpetual trusts created by donors, held and administered by independent trustees. Under the terms of the trusts, the University has a legally enforceable right to receive income earned on the trust assets in perpetuity. The fair value of the beneficial interest in the perpetual trust is recognized as an asset and as a permanently restricted contribution at the date the trust is established or the University is notified. The University's estimate of fair value is based on fair value information received from the trustees. The trust assets consist of, but are not limited to, cash and cash equivalents, proprietary funds, mutual funds, and equity securities. These assets are not subject to the control or direction by the University. Gains and losses, which are not distributed by the trusts, are reflected as change in value of perpetual trusts held by others in the statements of activities and reported as permanently restricted changes in net assets. Distributions from the trust are reported as investment income.

Other funds held in trust

The University has funds held in trust at the Georgia Baptist Foundation. These funds are unrestricted and the University's Board can withdraw these funds from the Foundation upon request.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued:

PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Property and equipment purchased since June 30, 1969, are recorded by the University at cost at date of acquisition or fair market value at date of donation, if acquired as gifts. Plant assets acquired prior to June 30, 1969, were valued at an appraised value at that time which was designed to closely approximate historical valuation for the plant as of that date. Purchases and gifts of property and equipment valued at $1,500 or more are capitalized. Depreciation is provided over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets on a straight-line basis.

A summary of depreciable lives follows:

Buildings	50 years
Improvements other than buildings	20 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	5-10 years

CAPITALIZED COLLECTION ITEMS

Capitalized collection items consist of artwork, artifacts, and exotic stuffed animals donated to the University, which are on display in various locations on the campus and is carried at the fair value at the date of the gift.

DEFERRED REVENUE

The University recognizes tuition and related fee revenue as it is earned by prorating the revenues on a monthly basis within the semester. The amount of revenue that is unearned at year-end is recorded as deferred revenue.

ASSET RETIREMENT OBLIGATION

Asset retirement obligations (ARO) are legal obligations associated with the retirement of long-lived assets. These liabilities are initially recorded at fair value and the related asset retirement costs are capitalized by increasing the carrying amount of the related assets by the same amount as the liability. Asset retirement costs are subsequently depreciated over the useful lives of the related assets. Subsequent to initial recognition, the University records period-to-period changes in the ARO liability resulting from the passage of time and revisions to either the timing or the amount of the original estimate of undiscounted cash flows. The University derecognizes ARO liabilities when the related obligations are settled.

Notes to Financial Statements

May 31, 2014 and 2013

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued:

CLASSES OF NET ASSETS

The financial statements report amounts by class of net assets:

Unrestricted net assets are currently available at the direction of the Board for use in the University's operations, designated as quasi-endowment funds for long-term investment, designated for certain capital projects/improvements, or invested in property and equipment.

Temporarily restricted net assets are subject to donor imposed stipulations for specific operating purposes or for the acquisition of property and equipment or are time restricted.

Permanently restricted net assets are contributed with donor restrictions requiring that they be held in perpetuity with income used for operations and scholarships.

REVENUE AND EXPENSES

Revenue is recognized when earned and support when contributions are made, which may be when cash is received, unconditional promises are made, or ownership of other assets is transferred to the University. Student tuition and fees are recorded as revenue during the year the related academic services are rendered.

The University reports gifts of cash and other assets as restricted revenue if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated net assets. When a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Gifts-in-kind consist of property and securities recognized at fair value on the date of the gift.

The University reports gifts of land, buildings, and equipment as unrestricted support unless explicit donor stipulations specify how the donated assets must be used. Gifts of long-lived assets with explicit restrictions that specify how the assets are to be used and gifts of cash and other assets that must be used to acquire long-lived assets are reported as restricted support. Absent explicit donor stipulations about how those long-lived assets must be maintained, the University reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service.

Operating results in the statements of activities reflect all transactions increasing or decreasing net assets except those defined as non-operating. The University has defined non-operating activities principally to include endowment investment activity, net of amounts appropriated by the Board for expenditure to support operations in accordance with the endowment spending policy, permanently restricted contributions and bequests added to the endowment or supporting major capital acquisition, net assets released from restrictions designated for capital expenditures, gains or losses on financial instruments, and activity related to split interest agreements. Certain other gains and losses considered to be of a more unusual or non-recurring nature are also included as part of non-operating activities.

Expenses are recorded when incurred in accordance with the accrual basis of accounting. The costs of providing the program services and supporting activities of the University have been summarized on a functional basis in the statements of activities. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the program services and supporting activities benefited. Costs related to the operation and maintenance of the physical plant, including depreciation of plant assets and interest expense, are allocated to program and supporting activities based upon the use of the facilities.

The University generally expenses advertising costs as they are incurred. The University expended $250,723 and $590,173 for advertising for the years ended May 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

The University participates in the delivery of student financial assistance programs under various programs administered by the Department of Education. The related activity is subject to audit both by independent certified public accountants and by representatives of the administering agency regarding compliance with applicable regulations. Any resultant findings of noncompliance could potentially result in the required return of related funds received and/or the assessment of fines or penalties or the discontinuation of eligibility for participation.

The financial statement effects of a tax position taken or expected to be taken are recognized in the financial statements when it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the position will be sustained upon examination. Interest and penalties, if any, are included in expenses in the statements of activities. As of May 31, 2014, the University has analyzed its tax positions and believes that all more likely than not to be sustained upon examination.

The University files information tax returns in the U.S. and various states. The University is generally no longer subject to U.S. federal and state income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2009.

For Federal Perkins Loans, the credit quality indicator is performance determined by delinquency status, origination, and servicing of the loan. Delinquency status is updated monthly by the University's loan servicer. Federal Perkins Loans that are originated and serviced properly under Department of Education regulations can be assigned to the Department of Education when deemed no longer collectible. The University is not aware of any material amount of loans not properly originated or serviced under Department of Education regulations.

7. DISCLOSURE OF FAIR VALUE AND FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS:

The following disclosure of the estimated fair value of financial instruments is made in accordance with the Financial Instruments topic of the FASB ASC. The estimated fair value amounts have been determined by the University using available market information and appropriate valuation methodologies.

The estimated fair values of the University's financial instruments are as follows:

	May 31, 2014
	Carrying Amount	Fair Value
Assets:
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 1,048,078	$ 1,048,078

Capital lease obligations	$ 36,116	$ 36,116
Long-term debt–net	$ 14,927,611	$ 14,927,611
Funds held in federal loan programs	$ 890,072	$ 890,072

The Fair Value Measurements and Disclosure topic of the FASB ASC establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. This hierarchy consists of three broad levels: Level 1 inputs consist of unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and have the highest priority, Level 2 inputs consist of observable inputs other than quoted prices for identical assets, and Level 3 inputs have the lowest priority.

The University uses appropriate valuation techniques based on the available inputs to measure the fair value of its investments. When available, the University measures fair value using Level 1 inputs because they generally provide the most reliable evidence of fair value. Level 3 inputs are only used when Level 1 or Level 2 inputs are not available.

Valuation techniques: Fair values for stock are based on quoted market prices in an active market. The fair value of mutual funds is based on quoted net asset values of the shares held by the University at year-end. The fair value of funds held in trust by others is based on the value of the University's proportional share of the overall assets held by the other organizations. The fair value of the interest rate swap agreement is the estimated amount the financial institutions would receive or pay to terminate the swap agreement at the reporting date, taking into account current interest rates and the current credit worthiness of the swap counter parties.

Changes in valuation techniques: None.

7. DISCLOSURE OF FAIR VALUE AND FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS, continued:

Investments included as alternative investments are classified as Level 2 based on their valuation and redeemability at the measurement date. The following table discloses the nature and risks of these hedge funds:

This fund is an offshore hedge fund portfolio that utilizes a fund of funds approach by investing in various investment funds that hold private equity and debt funds. The fair values of the shares of this fund have been estimated using the net asset value of the underlying investments. At May 31, 2014, all shares could be redeemed in less than one year.

8. ENDOWMENT FUNDS:

The University's endowment consists of approximately 145 individual funds established for a variety of purposes as a result of donor contributions and board designation. As required by GAAP, net assets associated with endowment funds, including funds designated by the Board to function as endowments, are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

The University has interpreted Georgia's adoption of the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary.

SHORTER UNIVERSITY

Notes to Financial Statements

8. ENDOWMENT FUNDS, continued:

As a result of this interpretation, the University classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of applicable donor gift instruments at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund in excess of the original fair value that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by UPMIFA.

In accordance with UPMIFA, the University considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

1. The duration and preservation of the fund
2. The purposes of the University and the donor-restricted endowment fund
3. General economic conditions
4. The possible effect of inflation and deflation
5. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments
6. Other resources of the University
7. The investment policies of the University

The University has adopted investment and spending policies for the endowment assets that attempt to provide a predictable stream of funding to programs supported by its endowment while seeking to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets. Endowment assets include those assets of donor-restricted funds that the University must hold in perpetuity as well as board designated funds. Under this policy, as approved by the Board the endowment assets are invested in a manner that is intended to seek a total return of five percent plus the growth in the Consumer Price Index over a market cycle of three to five years. Actual returns in any given year may vary from this amounts.

To satisfy its long-term rate-of-returns objectives, the University relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). The University targets a diversified asset allocation to achieve its long term objectives with prudent risk restraints.

The University has a policy of appropriating for distribution each year up to five percent of its endowment fund's average fair value for the 20 quarters proceeding the year in which the expected return on its endowment. Accordingly, over the long term, the University expects the current spending policy to allow its endowment to grow at an average of the long-term rate of inflation. This is consistent with the University's objective to maintain the purchasing power of the endowment assets held in perpetuity as well as to provide additional real growth through new gifts and investment return.

11. INTEREST RATE SWAP:

In December 2011, the University executed an interest rate swap which fixes the variable rate exposure associated with the note payable with Fifth Third Bank to effective synthetic rates of 1.8%. The interest rate swap agreement matures on December 20, 2016. In the event of default by the counterparty, a large regional bank, the University may be exposed to increased interest rates. The University does not anticipate nonperformance by the counterparty. Terminating the swap while keeping the loan in place would result in paying off the recognized swap liability, and the interest rate would revert back to the 1.75 percent plus 30-day LIBOR rate.

The University received and disbursed $127,520 and $165,660 of FWS awards during fiscal years 2014 and 2013, respectively.
